Mission Statement

New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and Leavell College prepare servants to walk with Christ, proclaim His truth, and fulfill His mission.

Course Description

This course is designed to augment the student's grasp of Greek grammar as presented in the introductory course. This course will focus on grammar, translation, and the exegetical significance of New Testament Greek. Greek 2, while helpful to any student wishing to go further in understanding New Testament Greek, is required for language track students. Greek 2 is a prerequisite for Greek Exegesis courses; Advanced Greek for Exegesis; Readings in Hellenistic Literature; and Textual Criticism of the Greek New Testament. Prerequisite: NTGK5351 Greek 1 or its equivalent.

Student Learning Outcomes

The student outcomes for this course include the following:

1. Students should understand the categories and functions of Greek grammar
2. Students should gain an increased appreciation for how the study of Greek enhances Biblical interpretation
3. Students should acquire the ability to translate most any text in the Greek New Testament and apply this analysis to sound interpretation of the text

Textbooks

The Greek New Testament: UBS 5th edition or NA 28th edition

Decker, Rodney J. Reading Koine Greek: An Introduction and Integrated Workbook.
Grand Rapids: Baker Academic, 2014.

The course is designed using Decker's Reading Koine Greek as the grammar textbook. If you used a different textbook in Greek 1, you may continue to use that textbook for this course if you so choose. You will simply need to read the corresponding chapters by subject matter in that textbook.

Decker, Rodney J. Koine Greek Reader: Selections from the New Testament, Septuagint, and Early Christian Writers. Grand Rapids: Kregel, 2007.

Mathewson, David L. and Elodie Ballantine Emig. Intermediate Greek Grammar: Syntax for Students of the New Testament. Grand Rapids: Baker Academic, 2016.

Course Teaching Methodology

The course will involve the following methodologies: lecture videos, student assignments, textbook reading, memorization, and recitation. Both inductive and deductive approaches to learning Greek grammar will be utilized.

Course Requirements

1. Daily Assignments: Each unit is divided into 5 lessons. These lessons include a range of daily assignments designed to help you learn and retain Greek grammar and vocabulary. These assignments include exercises such as writing Greek paradigms, reciting vocabulary words, and reading the textbook. Students are strongly encouraged to do 1 lesson each day of the week instead of trying to do multiple lessons in one day. These daily assignments will account for 20% of the grade for the course.
2. Class Participation: This course will also feature a number of ungraded assignments such as vocabulary practice, translation practice, and discussion board participation. While students will not be assessed a specific grade for each of these assignments, the student will be assessed based on his or participation in and completion of these assignments. Class participation accounts for 10% of the final grade for this course.
3. Vocabulary Quizzes: Lesson 4 of each unit will include a vocabulary quiz on words covered in prior lessons. These vocabulary quizzes account for 15% of the grade for the course.
4. Review Quizzes: Within the first half of the semester, lesson 5 of each unit will include a review quiz on various Greek concepts covered in prior lessons. These review quizzes account for 10% of the grade for the course.
5. Assessments: Each unit within the first half of the semester will begin with an assessment that covers any concepts covered in prior units. This assessment will be the first assignment of the new unit. These assessments account for 15% of the grade for the course.
6. Translations: In the second half of the semester, review quizzes and assessments will be replaced with translation assignments. Students will be expected to provide their own translations of given New Testament passages as well as explanations of these translations. Translation assignments account for 20% of the grade for the course.
7. Exegetical Assignment: Students will write an exegetical assignment covering the translation, exegesis, and syntax of a passage. This assignment accounts for 10% of the grade for the course.
