Course Requirements and Evaluation of Grades

All assignments must be completed to receive a passing grade in the course.

Assignment & Description	Percentage/Points	Due Date
Reading Students are required to read all of the material according to the assignments schedule in this syllabus. Read the Reciprocating Self text carefully, as many of your discussion board topics will be related to this book. Read the Human Development textbook for a more general familiarity with the essentials of each stage of development. Many of your midterm and final exam questions will come from this text. Read all PowerPoint and other supplemental materials in the Blackboard shell and watch all assigned videos. All reading must be completed by the opening date of each course unit.		See course schedule grid below.

Blackboard Discussion Board Students are required to participate in weekly discussion boards. The instructor will post prompts for each unit of the course. Prompts may be case studies or questions based on the reading or other course materials for a given week. Student posts will take two forms: Primary Post = responses to the instructor prompt and Response Posts = response to another student's major post. Students are expected to make 1 primary and 2 response posts for each prompt. Primary posts must be made by Wednesday at 11:59 PM each week. Response posts must be submitted by the time the discussion board closes at the end of the week. A new discussion board will be made available on Sunday (12:00 AM) of each week. Discussion boards will be closed Saturday at end of day (11:59 PM) each week. Discussion boards will not be reopened once they are closed, so students must be sure to post prior to midnight on Saturday each week. Posts will be graded for content quality and synthesis of course reading materials. Primary posts must demonstrate an understanding of the reading, presentation, or assigned activity, with a normal expectation of approximately one paragraph in length. Secondary posts may be shorter (a few sentences to a paragraph) but must demonstrate evidence of quality and informed reflection on the subject.	15%	Weekly See course schedule grid below.
Book Review Students will read and review one book from the selected bibliography listed in this syllabus. The review will consist of a brief summary of the book along with an evaluation of its strengths and	15%	See course schedule grid below.

weaknesses, as well as its usefulness and most appropriate audience. Reviews are to be 5-6 pages in length and may employ parenthetical page number references as necessary. Please include an APA-style citation for the book you review. If the student wishes to review a book not on the selected bibliography list, prior approval must be obtained from the instructor.
Leadership & Advocacy Book Review with Personal/Professional Application Students will read one of the optional leadership and advocacy books and write a 6-7 page review. The review will consist of a brief summary of the book along with an evaluation of its strengths and weaknesses, its usefulness and most appropriate audience, and a plan for how the student can lead or advocate in their own professional life and practice based on the principles learned in the book. Reviews are to be 6-7pages in length and may employ parenthetical page number references as necessary. Please include an APA-style citation for the book you review.	15%	See course schedule grid below.
Personal Reflection Papers Students will write a 4-6 page reflection paper describing their own experience related to their current stage of human development. The paper should include reflections on any developmental issues or challenges and possible solutions. It should also include an identification of the developmental stage with which the student would find it most difficult to work as a counselor and an analysis of the reasons why and possible solutions to improve in this area. Refer to the introductory material in The Reciprocating Self for some short examples of developmental self-assessments and introductions.	15%	See course schedule grid below.
Midterm and Final Exams Exams will be administered on Blackboard. Exams are comprehensive and based primarily on the reading from the course texts. Exams are primarily objective and are intended to support	20% (Midterm) 20% (Final)	See course schedule grid below.

Disabilities and Accommodations

New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary does not discriminate against applicants/ students on the basis of personal disabilities. The Seminary, in voluntary compliance with the American Disabilities Act, will provide reasonable institutional accommodations, modifications, and adjustments to enable and empower students with disabilities to participate in Seminary programs and activities to the fullest extent possible. However, NOBTS cannot support accommodations that place undue hardship on the Seminary or its resources or which alter the essential requirements of curriculum and academic progress. While the seminary does not provide direct assistance to students in the form of equipment or personnel, accommodations may be made by individual professors at their discretion. These accommodations usually take the form of early access to lecture materials in electronic format and additional time to complete tests and assignments. The most efficient way to pursue such accommodations is to provide the Director of Testing and Counseling (Dr. Jeff Nave, jnave@nobts.edu, 504-282-4455 ext. 8004) with documentation of the condition for which you seek accommodation, an explanation of helpful accommodations received in the past, and a description of the specific accommodations you desire. The Director of Testing and Counseling will document your request and communicate on your behalf with the professors who teach the course(s) for which you are registered. The seminary reserves the right to consider each request for "special" accommodations on a case by case basis pursuant to the criteria enumerated above.

Diversity

The Counseling Program at NOBTS affirms the Christian doctrinal position that God created man in His own image, and that Christ died for man; therefore, every person of every race possesses full dignity and is worthy of respect and Christian love. We believe the counseling profession affords our students and graduates the opportunity to be “salt and light” (Matthew 5:13-16) whatever their places of service, and that a robust appreciation for and sensitivity to human diversity is key to that end. Further, a learning environment diverse in its people, curricula, scholarship, research, and creative activities expands opportunities for intellectual inquiry and engagement, helps students develop critical thinking skills, and prepares students for social and civic responsibilities. Students and faculty benefit from diversity. The quality of learning, research, scholarship, and creative activities are enhanced by a climate of inclusion, understanding, and appreciation of the full range of human experience. We are committed to nurturing and training a diverse student body in an atmosphere of mutual respect and appreciation of differences. As a result, the counseling program is committed to diversity and equal opportunity and recognizes that it must represent the diversity inherent in American society, reflected in our local community, and aligned with the core values of the NOBTS community.

Emergencies

In cases of emergency, such as hurricanes, disease outbreaks, or other disasters, go to the seminary website (www.nobts.edu) for information. The seminary administration will post information, such as the nature of the emergency, instructions for response, and evacuation and return dates. Please check Blackboard for information specific to this course. Because Blackboard is available, the course will continue even if the main campus is closed. Please consider registering for the seminary’s priority text messaging service through SelfServe. This service is used only in emergencies, and will allow the seminary to deliver urgent information to you as needed.

Each student is expected to demonstrate appropriate Christian behavior when working online on Discussion Boards or whenever interaction occurs through web, digital, or other electronic medium. The student is expected to interact with other students in a fashion that will promote learning and respect for the opinions of others in the course. A spirit of Christian charity is expected at all times in the online environment.
