NOBTS MISSION STATEMENT:

New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and Leavell College prepare servants to walk with Christ, proclaim His truth, and fulfill His mission.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course consists of a thorough study of the book of Ruth and/or passages through verse-by-verse and paragraph-by-paragraph analysis, comparison of various English versions, consideration of pertinent historical and cultural issues, and consultation with major literature and commentaries. The course emphasizes proper methods for discovering the meaning of a text and applying it in teaching and preaching.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the conclusion of the semester, the students should be able to:

1. Have knowledge of the background material for the book of Ruth
2. Know the major points of scholarly discussion on Ruth and how to use critical means to interpret the letter.
3. Understand the message of the book of Ruth as it applied in the 2nd millennial BC and as it applies in the present day.
4. Have grown in appreciation for the message of God as revealed by the writer while reaching a better understanding of how this letter fits into the overall perspective of the Bible.
5. Know how to apply interpretation skills learned in this book to other books in the Old Testament.
6. Know how to develop biblical sermons or Bible study lessons from the book of Ruth

TEXTBOOKS

Hubbard, Robert L. The Book of Ruth. The New International Commentary on the Old Testament. Eerdmans, 1988.

Block, Daniel I. Ruth: A Discourse Analysis of the Hebrew Bible. Zondervan Exegetical Commentary. Zondervan, 2015.

COURSE TEACHING METHODS:

This course will be taught via a combination of pedagogical methods, including but not limited to the following: lectures, student assignments, small group work, computer resources, textbook reviews, travel notes and journal. Both inductive and deductive approaches to learning will be utilized.

REQUIREMENTS IN THE COURSE:

1. Students are expected to participate and take notes in the travel lectures.
2. Students are expected to complete the reading of the two textbooks and write a book review of each book. The book reviews should be 3-5 single-spaced pages and include the following elements:
 - 1) Bibliographic Entry
 - 2) Statement of the Author's Purpose
 - 3) Summary of the Contents. The summaries should be general in nature, covering the broad topics and three or four specific texts or topics as examples of the author's approach.
 - 4) An Evaluation of the book's thesis and treatment of the text of Ruth
3. Each student will keep a journal with notes on the sites, the lectures, and personal impressions of the trip. This journal (or a copy) is to be submitted at the end of the trip.
4. The student will be required to prepare a 5-7 page paper reflecting on the trip, the reading, and the study of Ruth. The paper is not a research paper, but should demonstrate serious thinking about the sites and experiences on the trip and serious reflection on the message of the book of Ruth. PowerPoint presentations are acceptable as an alternate to the paper as long as there is an accompanying narrative to explain each slide. There must be a minimum 75 slides in the presentation.
