Scholarship and Grant

National Association of Baptist Professors of Religion Dissertation Scholarship

The NABPR is committed to supporting academically qualified scholars and teachers of religion for the Baptist academy who carry out their teaching and research with a sense of Baptist identity. The particular purpose of the NABPR dissertation scholarship is to foster conversations about what it means to be a Baptist teacher and scholar in relationship to church and academy, thus contributing to the formation of students in a Baptist tradition and the support of important research by Baptist doctoral students.

One scholarship of $3,000 will be awarded each year. In the year the award is granted, recipients will be invited to attend the national NABPR meeting, where they will be recognized by the association. Recipients also may be invited to attend subsequent workshops on Baptists and higher education.

In order to be eligible, the candidate must be

- at the dissertation stage of his or her program (ABD) in an accredited doctoral program
- affiliated or connected in an ongoing way with some Baptist congregation
- a student member of NABPR (which applicants may join at the time of application with no penalty)
- nominated by a faculty member of NABPR who agrees by virtue of the nomination to serve as the student's mentor

Faculty, if you would like to nominate a student who has an approved prospectus, please have the candidate submit the following:

- a letter of interest stating how funds will be spent, candidate's church involvement, and long-term academic goals
- a curriculum vitae
- the dissertation prospectus and/or sample chapter
- two letters of recommendation.

All materials must be submitted electronically to Dr. Daniel Mynatt, National Executive Secretary of NABPR, at dmyatt@umhb.edu.

The deadline for submitting materials is January 15, 2012. For more information, see the NABPR Web site.
