Purpose of the Course, Core Value Focus, and Curriculum Competencies Addressed

The purpose of this course is to provide for the students quality theological education in the discipline of pastoral ministries. The core value focus of the course will emphasize spiritual vitality. The course will address the competencies of biblical exposition, interpersonal skills, and spiritual and character formation.

Course Description

This colloquium is designed to direct third-semester Ph.D. students majoring in preaching to explore foundational readings and literary resources related to significant developments which have shaped the field of homiletics.

Student Objectives

By the end of the course, students will:

1. Be able to identify foundational works which have shaped the field of homiletics.
2. Be able to list significant developments in classical and contemporary homiletics.
3. Value the contribution of key homiletical developments to the advancement of Christian preaching.
4. Demonstrate acceptable knowledge of significant homiletical developments in their doctoral qualifying and oral exams.

Course Methods

Monthly accountability and sharing sessions with the professor and colloquium students will be held. Conferences with the professor are invited, in order to facilitate learning and guide student research. Such conferences may be accomplished via telephone, e-mail, or office appointments.
