

RDOC9303 Prospectus Development June 1-5, 2020

ANSWERING GOD'S CALL

Dr. Loretta Rivers

Professor of Social Work
Associate Dean of Graduate Studies
Office: 504.282.4455 ext. 3211
E-mail:lrivers@nobts.edu

Mission Statement

The mission of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary is to equip leaders to fulfill the Great Commission and the Great Commandments through the local church and its ministries.

Core Value Focus

The seminary has five core values.

- 1. Doctrinal Integrity: Knowing that the Bible is the Word of God, we believe it, teach it, proclaim it, and submit to it. This course addresses Doctrinal Integrity specifically by preparing students to grow in understanding and interpreting of the Bible.
- 2. Spiritual Vitality: We are a worshipping community emphasizing both personal spirituality and gathering together as a Seminary family for the praise and adoration of God and instruction in His Word. Spiritual Vitality is addressed by reminding students that a dynamic relationship with God is vital for effective ministry.
- 3. Mission Focus: We are not here merely to get an education or to give one. We are here to change the world by fulfilling the Great Commission and the Great Commandments through the local church and its ministries. This course addresses Mission Focus by helping students understand the biblical foundations for fulfilling the Great Commission and the Great Commandments.
- 4. Characteristic Excellence: What we do, we do to the utmost of our abilities and resources as a testimony to the glory of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Characteristic Excellence is addressed by preparing students to excel in their ability to interpret Scripture, which is foundational to effective ministry.
- 5. Servant Leadership: We follow the model of Jesus and exert leadership and influence through the nurture and encouragement of those around us. Servant Leadership is modeled by classroom deportment.

The core value focus for this academic year is Spiritual Vitality.

Schedule

The class meets Monday through Friday. Tentative meeting times are indicated on the schedule below, but adjustments and additional class meetings may be needed. In addition, time will be scheduled for peer group sessions and private conferences with the professor(s).

Plan to be involved in research and writing, and available for all of each class day.

Think of this as a five-week course, as you will have a lot of work to do after the week of class time.

The class will meet via BlueJeans for all class meetings. Check your email for information on how to access the meetings.

Description

Students are concerned with the techniques and literature of research and with individual guidance in form and style for research writing.

Objectives

1. The student will understand the basic principles of research.
2. The student will produce a “draft” prospectus for the dissertation within four weeks of completing the course.

Required Texts

Wayne C. Booth, Gregory G. Colomb, Joseph M. Williams, Joseph Bizup, and William T. Fitzgerald. The Craft of Research. 4th ed. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2016.
Leedy, Paul D., and Jeanne Ellis Ormrod, with Laura Ruth Johnson. Practical Research: Planning and Design. 12th ed. Upper Saddle River, NJ: Pearson, 2019.

Recommended Texts

Cone, John D., and Sharon L. Foster, Dissertations and Theses from Start to Finish. 2nd ed. Washington, DC: American Psychological Association, 2006.
Creswell, John W. Qualitative Inquiry and Research Design: Choosing among Five Traditions. 4th ed. Thousand Oaks, CA: Sage, 2018
Pyrzczak, Fred, and Randall R. Bruce. Writing Empirical Research Reports. 7th ed. Glendale, CA: Pyrczak Publishing, 2011.

Style Guides

Biblical studies students:

The SBL Handbook of Style: For Biblical Studies and Related Disciplines, 2nd ed. (2014)

Psychology and counseling students:

Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 7th ed.

All other students:

Kate L. Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, recent ed.

Requirements

1. Each student is expected to study carefully the required texts, complete pre-course assignments, attend all class sessions, and utilize the library extensively.
2. Each student is expected to submit a completed “draft” of a prospectus to the professor for the course no later than July 15, 2020.

Because evaluating prospectuses can take up to 9 weeks depending on the number of students in the class, you may not receive feedback on your document before mid-September. Therefore, you may not be able to submit your prospectus for the October ReDOC meeting in order to secure guidance committee approval by the November 1 deadline for May graduation.

Assignments to be Completed Prior to the Class Sessions

In order to maximize the time in the course and to prepare an acceptable prospectus, it is crucial that you do extensive work prior to the course. Assessment of the reading assignments will be made the first day of class. Failure to complete the appropriate reading and pre-assignments is grounds for dismissal from the class. Pre-assignments include:

1. Watch and listen to the PowerPoint files under the “Course Documents” section on Blackboard. The access code for the course on Blackboard is rdoc9303.

2. Read Practical Research: Planning and Design

Read meticulously chapters 1-6. Be familiar with the various types of research in chapters 7-11.

After identifying your research methodology, read in detail and master the contents of the appropriate chapters. You should be conversant with the methodologies which will be used in your research.

Note: If you are using a specialized methodology (such as rhetorical analysis), you should master the research methodology prior to the course.

3. Read The Craft of Research.

Be prepared to discuss the contents in class.

4. Focus the thesis

If at this point you have not had sufficient guidance from your Guidance Committee Chairperson in focusing your Research Proposal, seek help before coming to the class.

5. Review the appropriate style guide.

6. Do extensive reading in the area of the research problem.

Read extensively beyond that done in preparing the Research Proposal. If you are not familiar with the work in the field and/or specific methodologies, you will not know how to focus your thoughts.

Keep in mind that for the prospectus, you will need to do the following:

- (1) Order immediately any resources such as books and dissertations that you will need to include in the “Review of Related Literature.” Before the course begins you should read

- at least 2 dissertations that employed your intended research methodology.
- (2) Develop the "Review of Related Literature" section. Know the literature before you come to class. What have others done in this field of research?
  - (3) Include a detailed outline of the plan of research—a detailed, step-by-step description of the data gathering and interpretation process, etc.

In order to accomplish the above, you must be familiar with the literature. The more reading you do prior to the course, the easier this process will flow.

Come to the class with a written annotated bibliography of 15-20 key works related to the research problem.

Failure to demonstrate having done adequate reading in the proposed area of research is justifiable grounds for dismissal from the course.

7. Become familiar with the attached sample outlines.

Dissertation Prospectus – Sample Outline #1
(Appropriate for some using historical research)

(Note: This outline contains the primary items to be in the prospectus. Each student should customize as appropriate to his or her dissertation.)

A. The Thesis and Its Setting

1. The thesis (research question, thesis statement, purpose)
2. The hypotheses
3. The definitions of terms [if needed]
4. The assumptions [if needed]

B. The Review of the Related Literature or State of Research

C. The Importance of the Study

D. Methodology

[Customize this section for your dissertation—cover the material, but do not be bound to the outline.]

Write an introduction to the entire section. Then write a narrative section that addresses the issues appropriate to the proposal.

1. Section 1 [use a descriptive subheading that fits your research]

In a narrative format cover the appropriate items such as:

- (1) The data needed [primary and secondary -- be specific]
- (2) Criteria governing the admissibility of the data
- (3) The location of the data [specific...i.e., not “in books in the library”]
- (4) The means of obtaining the data
- (5) The treatment of the data [This is the heart of the section. Discuss the methodology used and how you will interpret the data. Be specific and “detailed.”]

2. Section 2

E. The Qualifications of the Researcher

F. The Outline of the Proposed Dissertation (organized by chapters)

G. Selected Bibliography

Dissertation Prospectus - Sample Outline #2
(Appropriate especially for some quantitative designs)

(Note: This outline contains the primary items to be in the prospectus. Each student should customize as appropriate to his or her dissertation.)

- A. The Problem and Its Setting
  - 1. The statement of the problem
  - 2. The hypotheses
  - 3. The definitions of terms
- B. The Review of the Related Literature
- C. The Importance of the Study
- D. Method
  - 1. Subjects
  - 2. Measures
    - a. Validation
    - b. Reliability
  - 3. Procedure
  - 4. Data analysis
- E. The Qualifications of the Researcher
- F. The Outline of the Proposed Study (organized by chapters)
- G. Selected Bibliography

Dissertation Prospectus - Sample Outline #3
(Appropriate especially for some quantitative designs)

(Note: This outline contains the primary items to be in the prospectus. Each student should customize as appropriate to his or her dissertation.)

- A. Introduction and Literature Review
  - 1. Literature Section 1
  - 2. Literature Section 2
  - 3. Summary and conclusions
  - 4. Statement of purpose

- B. Method
  - 1. Subjects
    - a. Criteria of inclusion in study
    - b. Recruitment of subjects
  - 2. Design
  - 3. Setting and apparatus
  - 4. Independent variables
  - 5. Measures (dependent variables)
  - 6. Procedure

- C. Results
  - 1. Statistical procedures
  - 2. Data presentation
  - 3. Interpretation of the data

- D. The Qualifications of the Researcher

- E. The Outline of the Proposed Dissertation (organized by chapters)

- F. Appendixes

- G. Selected Bibliography

Dissertation Prospectus - Sample Outline #4
(Appropriate especially for some qualitative designs)

(Note: This outline contains the primary items to be in the prospectus. Each student should customize as appropriate to his or her dissertation.)

A. Introduction

1. Problem and significance (in related literature)
2. Focus and research questions
3. Limitations of the study

B. Research Design

1. Overall strategy and rationale
2. Focusing on the specific settings, population and phenomenon
3. Sampling people, behaviors, events, and/or processes
4. Issues of entry, reciprocity, personal biography, and ethics

C. Data Collection Methods

1. Participation in the setting
2. Direct observations
3. In-depth interviewing
4. Document review

D. Recording, Managing, and Analyzing Data Resources for the Study

1. Time line
2. Level of data collection
3. Personnel needed
4. Resources needed

E. The Value and Logic of Qualitative Research (Criteria of soundness)

F. The Qualifications of the Researcher

G. The Outline of the Proposed Dissertation (organized by chapters)
