The Dissertation Publishing Agreement Form D from University Microfilms International is now available online at the following link:

logon: dissertations

password: publish

Please download the booklet, and print and complete the two-page Doctoral Dissertation Agreement Form in the back of the booklet. Note that you will need to sign and date both the publishing and the copyright authorization lines. This UMI form should be submitted with the final copies of your dissertation two weeks prior to graduation. Plain-paper copies of the title page and abstract should be included with the agreement form.

You may notice a discrepancy between the publication and copyright fees noted in the UMI booklet and those posted on the ReDOC Dissertation Fee and Order Form that you paid upon submission of your dissertation. January 1 increases in UMI charges reflected in the online Dissertation Publishing booklet from UMI will not become effective for NOBTS students until the following academic year, when the new fees appear in the graduate catalog.
